Back in the University again, with the only apparent difference being the facts that our student activities card is now buff instead of blue (loyalty, eh wot?) and that we are many dollars poorer for having registered and bought books. The cop on the corner still issues pink tickets, Quigley's still has last week's magazines, and we are still on probation.

This being the case, and that being our mood, we submit the following persons whom we would gladly execute: First the group of boisterous students' sixth-grade intelligence who collect in the halls just outside an examination room, where their fellows are writing, and hold noisy post-mortems over the recent unpleasantness, and in so doing, neither benefit themselves nor assist those attempting to think of the answer to question 14.

The person who first invented examinations.

Whoever was responsible for having all the doors of Corcoran Hall locked for an hour or so on the final day of registration, with no signs on the doors stating when they would reopen. Yes, of course it was raining.

That dusky janitor in Corcoran Hall who guards the doors where students are not supposed to enter, and does so in a remarkably discourteous manner.

Our private snooper tells us that the Phi Sig rush dinner (advertised in the society column), which five young ladies attended, had for a guest but one rush man. High-powered salesmanship, it seems to us.

Tried to get Jimmie Fleck to put our name on "Dean" Edith Norris' dance program, but was told that all the places were taken two weeks ago. Darn this fraternal spirit!

Our esteemed contemporaries out at C. E. have a columnist also. He calls himself Morpheus IV. As each wise-cracker's career is ended, he goes, but as for his name, that malady lingers on.

One of The Hatchet Office gang came down to work tonight with spurs on, and we started to have him write our column, since he could ride people better than we.

Some of these Theta Deltas went to New York during the recent holidays, and according to the best reports, were arrested three times—once in Chevy Chase, once in New Jersey, and once in New York proper. Speeding was the charge in the first two cases, but robbery, assault with attempt to kill, theft of an auto, and concealed weapons were the offenses listed in Mayor Walker's home town.

Events like these are why we have returned to school to rest.

The G. W. Radio Club is threatened with fines and imprisonment for wandering off their assigned wave length. We strongly advise the Government to imprison them, for they couldn't collect a fine, and if the radio bugs were jailed, we wouldn't be getting press releases from them every week.

Open season for freshman women will begin on Sunday. Now we understand why so few girls have been buying cokes during the past week or so. Rush assessments! Suspicious!

We can't concentrate on our thoughts with this bull session around us discussing the technical merits of "Strange Interlude." But since Frank Westbrook says it was a good show, we feel lots better, for we liked it too.

This notice is inserted here, for the editor won't allow it anywhere else in the paper. "Herbert E. Angel was named Chairman of the Board of Editors for the coming semester, and Betsy B. Booth was again reelected secretary, at the regular Sunday evening meeting of the Board at its sub-office in the Terminal Press-Building, 923 Eleventh Street." Yes, children, The Hatchet elects officers semi-annually.

Add society: Tommy Tompkins is back in school, after a brief sojourn at the College of William and Mary, where, it will be remembered, he gave a party on the evening of November 2.

Did you realize that we have another holiday a week from this Saturday?

CHAUNCEY DEPEW MEMORIAL CHAIR GIFT DEDICATED

Widow Present as Orator is Extolled by Professor Who Holds Chair

REPRESENTATIVE FISH LAUDS ENDOWMENT ACT

Presentation by Judge Charles H. Butler; John B. Lerner Accepts for the University

Dedication to the memory of Chauncey M. Depew of a chair of public speaking, endowed by his widow, in George Washington University was formally observed at a special convocation on January 24.

Mrs. Depew, in academic cap and gown, sat on the platform in Corcoran Hall with friends of her husband and university officials, and heard her distinguished husband extolled as an outstanding figure in the fields of statesmanship, business, and oratory.

Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin presided at the exercises, and John B. Lerner, chairman of the board of trustees of the University, accepted the gift of the Chauncey Mitchell Depew Chair of Public Speaking on behalf of the institution. Presentation of the chair was made on behalf of Mrs. Depew by a close friend and advisor, Judge Charles Henry Butler, who for 66 years was a friend and neighbor of the great orator.

Made 15,000 Speeches Professor Willard Hayes Yeager, the first holder of the chair, who spoke with regard to the place of Chauncey M. Depew as an orator, expressed the belief that the late Senator made "more public speeches than any man throughout all history."

"I believe that I am making a conservative estimate when I say that he made at least 15,000 speeches during his long and distinguished career," declared Professor Yeager.

Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, Mr. Depew's home state, in his speech on "The Value of Training in Public Speaking" declared that Mrs. Depew had rendered a great public service in establishing the chair.

"Depew, Choate, and Bryan were prominent among the orators of the last 50 years. But oratory has almost become a lost art in these times," Mr. Fish said. "It is a sad commentary that in spite of the splendid educational opportunities now afforded in the United States there is not among throughout America who ranks with the foremost American orators of the past."

Foremost in Oratory "Chauncey M. Depew occupied the foremost stage in the annals of American oratory," declared Professor Yeager in his speech. "He had few equals as a political campaigner. He was rarely excelled as an orator for special occasions. He is recognized as the leader of all after-dinner speakers."

Regarding the endowment of the chair of public speaking Professor Yeager expressed to Mrs. Depew the opinion that "no place in the Nation is more suited for this memorial than the Nation's capital city," and added that he was "proud to be the first Depew professor of public speaking in The George Washington University."

Judge Butler referred to Mr. Depew as one who had "spread happiness for 90 years." The chair of public speaking, he said, was presented so as to enable students to follow Mr. Depew's ideals in the field in which he was so eminently successful.

Another Epoch Mr. Lerner, in his speech of acceptance, declared that establishment of the chair marks another epoch in the history of the University. "Mr. Depew's life and his example," said Mr. Lerner, "will stimulate the students to higher and more important work, and thus create an atmosphere which will aid in the further development of the University in kindred lines."

"We tender to Mrs. Depew our grateful thanks for the establishment and endowment of this important addition to the curriculum of the University."

At the conclusion of the exercises Dr. Marvin turned to Mrs. Depew and thanked her personally for the endowment.

HATCHET MEETING

Meeting of Hatchet editorial staff and those interested in staff positions, Thursday, February 13, in Corcoran Hall 29, at 8.00.

GLEE CLUB GIVES CONCERT FEB. 25

Will Be Competition With C. U. And Johns-Hopkins University

DANCING WILL FOLLOW

Winning Club Will Participate In Final Contest In New York Next Month

The Men's Glee Clubs of George Washington University, Catholic University and Johns Hopkins University will meet in competition on Tuesday evening, February 25, at 8:30 o'clock, at the New Willard Hotel. Following the contest there will be dancing in the ballroom until 1:00 a. m. Tickets for the contest and dance are selling at a special student rate of $1.00 for each person. Boxes, seating six persons, are $10.

The Glee Club selected by the judges as the most worthy of representing the section will journey to New York next month to participate in a final contest which will determine the prize collegiate glee club organization of the country. Dr. Edgar Priest, in charge of music at the National Cathedral, has been elected chairman of the committee of judges, and will have assisting him Otto Simon and Kurt Hetzel, both well known teachers of voice culture. In their decisions they will consider the tone, enunciation, ensemble, interpretation and pitch of each of three selections to be sung by the entrants, one of the entrant's own choice, the "Prize song" and a college song.

De Lacy, President

This contest is being presented by the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Glee Club Association, organized by students of the three universities as an associate member of the National Intercollegiate Musical Council. William H. DeLacy, a former justice of one of the District Courts, and very prominent locally, is president of the association. John Pooley, president of the Federal American National Bank, is secretary-treasurer, and is lending assistance in every way possible.

The contest to be held on February 25 at the Willard is significant in that the winner will be the first to ever appear in the National contest from this section of the country, and any university in Maryland, Virginia or the District desiring to enter the national contest in the future must first be successful in the local contest to be held each year. Also the national organization, of which George Washington is one of the associate members is gradually forming a link, now extending over Europe, which will include all the universities of the world.

W. A. A. HOLDS ANNUAL CARD PARTY TONIGHT

Women's Athletic Association Affair is Expected to Draw Large Crowd from University

The annual card party, one of the outstanding events on the W. A. A. calendar, will be given tonight, February 12, in Corcoran Hall 1.

Both men and women of the University and their guests are cordially invited to attend the function which will begin at 8 p. m.

There will be prizes for each table, as there will not be progression from table to table. Tickets may be procured from the executive board members, all other active members, and from sorority agents, at a cost of fifty cents per person. Each Association member is responsible for the sale of two tickets.

The agents for the various sororities are as follows: Phi Phi, Jean Sime; Chi Omega, Betsy Booth; Sigma Kappa, Lee McNeil; Phi Mu, Anna Laura Sanford; Alpha Delta Pi, Barbara Miller; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Winifred Beall; Kappa Delta, Virginia Whitney; Delta Zeta, Althea Lawton; Zeta Tau Alpha, Marian Stewart; Alpha Delta Theta, Ruth Chindblom; and Phi Delta, Barbara Sinclair.

Bertie Wright is chairman of the committee in charge of the card party. She will be assisted by Mary Sproul, Mary Detwiler, India Bell Corea, and Sarah Reed. Additional card tables and packs of cards are needed for the party. Anyone willing to loan either is requested to communicate with Bertie Wright as soon as possible.

The Women's Athletic Association will hold its February meeting at 7 p. m., on the same evening. This card party is given each year to raise money to send two delegates from the George Washington Association to the Athletic Convention of American College Women.

The aim of this organization are the promotion of mass participation and good sportsmanship. This year the convention meets at the University of Michigan during the Easter vacation. Last year, Mary Sproul, now varsity basketball manager, was sent to Greensboro, N. C., as representative.

Edith Norris, who will lead the Grand March with James Fleck.

INTERFRAT PROM TICKETS ON SALE

Interfraternity Council Delegates Are Agents; Wandering Greeks Solicited

EDITH NORRIS IS LEADER

Grand March To Be Feature, According To James Fleck, Chairman Of Social Committee

Distribution of tickets for this year's Interfraternity Prom has just been completed according to James Fleck, chairman of the social committee for the Interfraternity Council.

Delegates of the eleven social fraternities comprising the Council are handling the ticket sale with several representatives from other fraternities not represented on the Council also distributing tickets for their organizations. The committee is making an special effort to reach the fraternity men in the University who are classed as "wandering Greeks." These men are the ones who are members of national social fraternities, but who have no local chapters of their organizations here. Any aid which may be given to the social committee along this line will be welcomed.

As has been the custom for the past few years the 1930 Prom will again be staged at the Willard Hotel. However the date of Friday, February 23 is a departure from the usual time in that the Prom is being held nearly a month earlier this year primarily because social activities in the University are somewhat at a standstill at this time of the year and it is felt that there will be a far better appreciation of the largest social event of the college calendar at this time than later.

Norris Leads March

Edith Norris, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma will lead the Grand March at the Prom with James Fleck. It is also planned to have the March start from two points, so that Harold Farmer, president of the Interfraternity Council will be co-leader with the chairman. Just who will be escorted by Farmer has not been learned. Following these two leaders will be the delegates of the Council, who are Russell Combes, Theta Delta Chi; Scott Rigby, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Charles Cole, Delta Tau Delta; Jasper Highsmith, Kappa Alpha; Wm. Snow, Sigma Chi; Arthur Davis, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Robert Gray, Phi Sigma Kappa; Norment Hawkins, Kappa Sigma; and Floyd Pomeroy of Theta Upsilon Omega.

In addition to the above members of the Council who will handle tickets for the Prom the following representatives of fraternities are also serving: Morgan of Sigma Mu Sigma, Boswell of Phi Chi, and Kenneth Lyons of Sigma Theta Delta.

Episcopal Club Meets To Plan Conference

Representatives From Neighboring Colleges Will Be Guests of Local Club

The Episcopal Club of George Washington University will hold a dinner meeting at the Brick Wall Inn, 1905 K Street N. W., on Wednesday next, February 12, at 7:00 p. m., to make final plans for the Tri-Diocesan Conference of Episcopal Clubs to be held in Washington on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, February 23 to March 3. All persons attending this dinner meeting must notify Miss Louise Ward, 1835 K Street N. W., National 4483, by Tuesday evening.

Representatives will attend the Tri-Diocesan Conference, which is an annual affair, from the various colleges and universities in the District of Columbia and Maryland as guests of the Episcopal Club of George Washington University. The purpose of this conference is to bring together students for the discussion and solution of religious and campus problems.

STUDENT CRUISE PLANNED BY "Y"

Local Reservations to be Made Through Mrs. Barrows' Office

MEETING IS LED BY JONES

George Washington Group to Give Party and Dance On Board Ship

The mid-winter conference of the student Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., of Maryland, Delaware, and Washington will be held on a campus "afloat," similar to the college cruises around the world. This trip will be from Baltimore to Hampton and Old Point Comfort, Virginia, the weekend of February 21-23. There will be students from about thirty colleges in this section, and among the delegates there will be several students from George Washington. The conference is open to any student interested in the work of the college Y.; registrations may be made through the G. W. Y. W. C. A. in Mrs. Barrows' office.

There will be several well known men as leaders of the conference, the best known of the group being Bishop Paul Jones. Bishop Jones was at the Eagles Mere student conference last June, which five G. W. girls attended, and was said to be one of the best leaders there. Other leaders will be Harry Foulkrod, Y. M. C. A. secretary at the University of Maryland in Baltimore; Wellington Pinker, "Reds" Schall, Gladys Taylor, and others. Meetings will be held on the boat and at the Hampton Institute. Among other plans for the week-end is a Student Movement Dinner on board the boat Saturday evening, at which time four students will present the different aspects of the Student Movement. One of the speakers will be Dorothy Ruth, president of the G. W. "Y" and a member of the Tri-State Committee, who will tell the students what summer conferences are and in particular about the coming one to be held in June at Forest Park, Pa.

To End Sunday

The conference will close Sunday at noon in Baltimore, when the conference members will come ashore. The entire expense of the trip is reasonable; the registration fee is $1.50 and the boat trip, room and meals is $8.30. Registrations should be sent in immediately as the capacity of the boat is limited. Any Y. cabinet member can give students further information about the "Conference Afloat."

The George Washington delegation will probably entertain the other conference members at a "George Washington" party the 22nd, on-board the boat. It will most likely be a dance with unique favors and patriotic refreshments. Because of this the larger the G. W. delegation, the better it will be.

CHERRY BLOSSOMS TO BE SOLD BY MASONIC CLUB

Proceeds Are To Help Establish Foreign Service Chair In School of Government

Cherry blossoms will be sold on the campus from the nineteenth to the twenty-second of February to help the establishment of a chair of foreign service in the new School of Government of George Washington University. The blossoms will be sold by a group of prominent students under the auspices of the G. W. Masonic Club.

The sales for the last few years have been very successful and it is thought by the committee in charge of sales that some six thousand blossoms will be sold this year.

A partial list of the girls who will help sell the blossoms is: Mary Hudson, Ruth Campbell, Winifred Beall, Mildred Burnham, Katharine Beall, Edith Norris, Judith Wood, Marion Campbell. The Masonic Club will hold a dance sometime about the second week in April. This will replace the annual bridge party given heretofore by the club. Proceeds, as in the cherry blossom sale, will be given to the fund for the establishment of the chair of foreign service.

DOLLAR HOP SATURDAY

Delta Phi Epsilon, foreign service fraternity will sponsor a dance to be held in Corcoran Hall on Saturday evening, February 15, from 9 to 12. McWilliams' orchestra will provide the music. Admission will be $1.00 for stag or couple. The student body is cordially invited to attend.

DEBATERS MEET PRINCETON TEAM ON DISARMAMENT

A Team Composed of Witness, Lawyer and Pleader to Speak For Each Team

NEGATIVE POSITION HELD BY COLONIAL SPEAKERS

Professor Willard Hayes Yeager Prophesies Fast and Furious Debate

Next Saturday, February 15, in Stockton Hall, offers what promises to be one of the most interesting and most significant collegiate events of the winter, when The George Washington University meets Princeton University in men's debate on the question, "Resolved, that the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament except such forces as are needed for police purposes."

The subject is one that has been almost continuously in the public eye since the world war; and in view of the conference now going forward in London, it is today a question of absorbing interest to the layman as well as to the student of international relations. In addition, the wording of the question gives it just that touch of radicalism necessary to take it out of the class of humdrum discussions of everyday problems; and both teams have promised not only invaluable information, but new and different ideas on the great problem of world peace.

Oregon System Followed

Next Saturday's debate will be of unusual interest not only in the subject chosen, but in the form of debate that will be followed. Breaking away from time-worn conventions in debating, the teams will, on the proposal of the Princeton team, use the new Oregon System of debate. This system, having for its object to lessen the rigidity of set speeches, will follow more closely the procedure of a courtroom and offers considerable opportunity for intellectual fireworks.

Under this system, the three men composing each team instead of having prepared speeches, are divided into one witness, one lawyer, and one pleader. Each witness in turn will present the entire constructive case of his side in one fifteen-minute speech. Each lawyer in turn will then cross-examine the witness for the opposing side; and this cross-examination is not to take the form of set questions and prepared answers, but is to be twelve minutes of rapid-fire question-and-answer that must, in the hands of a clever lawyer, show up every weakness in the opposing case, and leave little room for mere oratorical smoke-screens. Each pleader will then, in a ten-minute speech, sum up the position of his team, rebut the arguments of the opposition, and make the final argument on his side.

Princeton Has Affirmative

The Princeton team, which will advocate the affirmative of the proposition, will be composed of H. P. Abbott, H. F. Leary, and J. C. Schenck. The George Washington team will include N. R. Hagen, C. V. Laughlin, and W. L. Butte. As tentatively arranged, Mr. Abbott will present the constructive case for Princeton, and will be cross-examined by Mr. Laughlin of George Washington; Mr. Butte will present the constructive case for George Washington, and will be cross-examined by Mr. Leary of Princeton; and Mr. Hagen and Mr. Schenck will make the important final speeches in rebuttal and summary for their respective teams.

Professor Willard Hayes Yeager, Depew professor of public speaking, and coach of George Washington's debaters, has tried in selecting his team for this debate to assign each man to the part.

Columbian Debaters Discuss Prohibition Question Feb. 14

First Debate of Second Semester to be Conducted Under Administration Headed by Morgall

Resolved, "that this house favors the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment" is the interesting subject that has been selected by the Columbian Debating Society for the debate next Friday evening, February 14, in Corcoran Hall 15. The affirmative will be taken by Norman Hagen and James Doran. A strong negative team is being selected.

This will be the first debate of the second semester and also the first debate under the newly elected administration headed by Ralph Morgall.

A very interesting debate is being anticipated as the subject, at the present time, is one of universal interest and popular discussion. It will be the first time that this subject of prohibition will come up in Columbian.

It has been a custom in the society to select the men whose convictions are with the side which they are upholding. Hence a spirited debate is in store for those who will be present. Everyone present will also be given an opportunity to express his views on the subject from the floor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1930

THE PRINCETON DEBATE

With the holding of several intercollegiate debates at George Washington during the past two weeks to be followed by the Princeton tryst scheduled for Saturday evening, the attention of the student body is again directed to this well worthwhile activity.

In the past, this phase of student life at the University has not received the emphasis which properly should be accorded it. In some quarters it is believed that this situation is the result of a failure on the part of those sponsoring the activity to bring it favorably before the student body. To remedy this existing condition and to increase the attendance upon the contests is one of the outstanding goals of the debating interests of the University.

As a first step in this endeavor the Department of Public Speaking of the University has made engagements for debates with teams from some of the most representative universities of the East. In furtherance of this design the subjects selected for argumentative purposes will be issues of keen interest which are at present confronting the thinking minds of the world. The very issues which today the world is attempting to settle around the conference table in London will be argued in Stockton Hall this week-end.

It would therefore seem that here is an opportunity afforded the University student body to learn first hand some of these tangible problems which will be presented in a clear and forceful manner by representative speakers. If we wish to maintain the good name which we carry as students of a great University, we should not fail to greet the Princeton team with an enthusiastic turnout and a substantial support of those who bear the fair name of our Alma Mater.

"A WORD TO THE WISE"

With the opening of the new semester, many new men and women have been enrolled in the University. To them, we offer this advice. There is a great deal in college which is radically different from anything to be found in high school. While the exterior appearances in many cases are similar, beneath the surface all is different.

Back in high school, there was always a hand guiding the activity of the student. When he missed an assignment, the teacher always wanted to know why. He was shoved and pulled to do the best that he could. Even his free time was allotted, so that during school hours, he had to be some place every minute.

Here, no such discipline is enacted. The student is his own man. He sinks or swims by his own efforts. If he does not do his work, nobody questions him. If he gets too far behind he flunks, and no one tries to pull him out. There is no check until he has gone so far that nothing can help him.

This same freedom is equally true outside of school. Since we go to school six days a week, there is no week-end to look forward to. Social activities are planned for any night in the week. Meetings of organizations pop up at random times. Since this system makes for every night a chance to go out, many people find themselves sidetracked by social affairs. Then the time for study has been eaten up, when the end of the week rolls around.

George Washington is situated in the heart of the city. It is only a few blocks from the theater district. Many find themselves in the middle of a show when they should be in class. This freedom bids fair to ruin the college life of many.

To get the most out of college, the student must act in moderation. He should study first, and then he will find plenty of time for his other activities. He can play in moderation, and that includes a good deal; he has time for school activities, for everything that claims his time.

Dr. Kathryn McHale was guest of honor yesterday at a luncheon given for her by the Home Economics Department. Dr. McHale is educational secretary of the American Association of University Women.

The Newman Club gave a formal closed dance and card party on Friday evening, January 31, at the Washington Club. Bran Hughes' orchestra furnished the music for the dance and promenade.

Martha Williams has returned to her home here from Cornell University, N. Y. She will stay in Washington for the remainder of her post-examination recess.

Tommie, Tompkins has resumed his studies at G. W. after an absence of the past semester when he attended William and Mary College, Va.

Carolyn Jackson drove to Baltimore for a dance on Friday, January the thirty-first.

Mae Harris Clarke visited in Baltimore during her mid-term holidays.

Among those seen celebrating the end of exams at Otis Skinner's "Papa Juan" were Florence Brookhart, Katherine Weller, and Beryl Edmiston.

Betty Miles, Helen Williams, and Elizabeth McKelvy attended the Pen-women's tea Sunday at Stoneleigh Courts.

Milton Beekman and Ted Chapin were the hosts at a sledding party held one evening during the recent icy weather.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt and Miss Annabel Matthews entertained at tea the members of Phi Delta Delta on Sunday afternoon, January 19, at their home on Dunbarton Avenue, Georgetown.

Dolph Atherton has just returned from Boston where he spent the holidays with his father.

Alec Porter and Doug Huntress drove to New York City where they attended the new shows during mid-semester vacation.

Frank Westbrook and Fletcher Henderson were among a group of G. W. students who motored to New York to spend the holidays.

Jerry Sickler and Don Sickler entertained at their home on February 4 at a gamble party. Merton English, Bob Adams, Wick Jones, Brad Swope, Phil Gallagher, Rae Edmonston, and Jerry Free were their guests.

Helen Kerr will visit in Washington after February 15.

Clouie Sentiere, Marian Kreutzer, Polly Pollard spent the week-end of February 8 at Annapolis.

Members of the active chapter were present at a tea given by the alumnae of Phi Beta Phi on Sunday, February 2.

Mary Hudson, Sally Ferguson, and Margaret Ferguson went last week to Dartmouth College, New Hampshire, where they attended the mid-winter carnival. The festivities lasted from February the sixth to February the ninth.

Sunday night suppers at Theta Delta Chi have become an enviable innovation of the campus, and many of the prominent co-eds are the guests on those occasions.

Peggy and Larry Parker entertained a number of their friends at a formal bridge party on Friday, January 31.

Delta Tau Delta's unique dance in the form of a tacky party was pronounced a huge success by those who attended.

Beta Chapter, Phi Delta Gamma Graduate Sorority, gave one of its most important parties of the year on Saturday, February 1, at the headquarters of the American Association of University Women. In addition to the chapter members about twenty students from the Graduate School were present. Miss Emma Thom, the president, was assisted in receiving by Miss Margaret Klein, Miss Ora Marshino, and Miss Florence Wallace. Bridge and other games were played during the evening. The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Miss Lillian Dutton, Miss Ora Marshino, and Miss Florence Wallace.

Miss Lillian Dutton entertained the chapter members at a tea at the Northumberland Apartments on February 2. Miss Dutton was assisted in receiving by Miss Emma Thom and Miss Elsie Green.

Pete Macias' orchestra furnished the music at the S. A. E. dance, which was held at their house on Friday, January 31.

Mary-Virginia Smith entertained at bridge on February 1. Among those from G. W. were Margaret Monk, Jean Sime, Mary Hudson, Mary K. Lutz, Maude Hudson, and Inge Von Lewinski.

Over the Horizon

HERE they come—the nucleus of an all-electric merchant marine. Yesterday, they were a dream. To-day, they are well over the horizon, linking the ports of the east and west coasts with fortnightly service. The goal of the Panama Pacific Line is to build three more turbine-electric ships, thus enabling weekly New York-Frisco sailings.

Even now, the three liners, California, Virginia, and Pennsylvania, constitute the largest fleet of turbine-electric commercial ships in the world.

Besides propelling these ships, electricity hoists freight, raises anchors, mans pumps, turns rudders, drives winches, and warps the vessels into their berths. It lights lamps, spins fans, operates elevators, cools and cooks food. Its magic touch is apparent on every deck.

The planning, production, and distribution of such equipment has been largely the responsibility of college-trained men who are working with General Electric and who have aided in bringing these ships over the horizon.

COLONIAL QUINT WINS AND LOSES IN COURT GAMES

Randolph-Macon Defeated For Second Time By Close Score

EAGLES AVENGE DEFEAT WITH WIN ON HOME FLOOR

Hatchets Weaken Body in Second Period to Allow Methodists To Win By 25-19

George Washington defeated Randolph-Macon on their home floor, but lost to American U. on the A. U. floor. These were the second engagements with both teams, the Colonials being the victors in the previous encounters.

The first game was very exciting after the first ten minutes of play during which the Virginians ran up a lead of 13-4. At the half Randolph-Macon still held the lead with a 16-13 score. The second half was one of keen excitement. Play was close and fast and with two minutes to go before the whistle ended the game the score stood 24-24. Castell then made a foul shot and a few seconds later dropped one in to make the score 27-24 in the Colonial's favor as the game ended. A great deal of credit is due Jeweler, who made 11 points. Although the G. W. team was outscored from the floor they accounted for 11 foul shots out of 16 trials.

Game Fast and Close

The game with A. U. was fast and close up to the last few minutes of play when the latter forged ahead to take the game by a score of 25-19.

The scoring at the beginning of the game was slow due to the good guarding of both teams. The lead changed several times and at half time was 14-12 in the Eagle's favor.

The second half was close for the first few minutes of play, but A. U. steadily drew into a safe lead which they maintained to the end, the final score standing 25-19 in the Eagle's favor. Castell and Harris were the leading scorers for the Colonials and Olsen and Targee for the A. U. five.

Tentative Swimming Team Named By Coach

Women to Compete With Swarthmore and Harrisonburg in March

A tentative women's varsity swimming team was chosen from a large group of applicants by Helen Lawrence, the swimming coach. The following were picked for the team: Claudia Kyle, Elizabeth Cates, Adele Apfel, Grace White, Florence Jacobs, Inge Von Lewinski, Florence Crittendon, Marion Wyvell, and India Belle Corea.

There are two important swimming meets to take place during the first two weeks in March. The first is to be with Swarthmore, in Washington, and the second with Harrisonburg, in Harrisonburg.

Girls who did not try out for the varsity team or who have not yet tried out for the inter-class teams may still do so. Two practices a week are required and the teams will be chosen within the next two weeks.

The practices are to be held at the K Street Y. W. C. A. at the following times: Monday at 3.30, Tuesday at 4 and Friday at 4. They will be one-half hour long and will be coached by Helen Lawrence and Julia Denning.

BASKETBALL RALLY

There will be a girls' Basketball Rally on Friday, February 14, at 10 o'clock, in the Gym. The occasion will be featured by speeches by coaches, captains, and some class songs and cheers. Come and support your class team!!!

RIFLEMEN LOSE TO NAVAL TEAM

Shots From Standing Position Determining Factors in Outcome of Match

COLONIALS OUTSCORE G. U.

Parsons, Ineligible For Navy Match, Is High Man in Win

Shooting against one of the strongest teams in the country, the G. W. U. rifle team received a set-back at the hands of the Navy last Saturday, 1364-1325.

G. W. had a slight edge on the prone score and tied the Navy's kneeling score, but lost forty points on the standing position. Only two men on the team, Captain Harrell and Tomelden had had match experience, having shot on the team for the first time last year. The others, Aud, Boudinot, Barr, Brylawski and Jackson, were in their first match, having had no inter-collegiate experience.

The team was coached during the match by Frank Parsons and Bob Leighy. Reed Cardon, assistant manager, acted as manager in the place of Julian Brylawski, who was shooting with the team.

The team will be greatly strengthened by the addition of an experienced rifleman, who will be eligible for the match with Georgetown this Friday. This man, Harry Parsons, was entered in the match with Navy but was found not to be eligible until the beginning of the second semester.

G. W.'s schedule is now nearly complete and will probably be published in next week's Hatchet. The plans for a triangular match with Maryland and V. P. I. are being completed now and the match will probably take place on February 15.

Friday night, February 7, the team shot a match with Georgetown. The G. W. scores were about 15 points higher than those of the Navy match. Harry Parsons being high man with a total of 282. The total score of the G. W. riflemen was 1343, as compared with 1284 of the Georgetown team.

The standing scores which were very weak against Navy were somewhat improved. The scores of the other two positions were not as good as in the Navy match.

The match was fired on the G. W. range which aided the men considerably because of their familiarity with the lights and shooting conditions. The same men coached and managed the team as in the match at Annapolis.

CO-ED BASKETBALL TEAM OPENS SEASON

Many of Last Year's Varsity Players Back—Gallaudet Game February 15

Varsity Basketball will open its 1930 season with a game with Gallaudet College on February 15, at 8:15 in the G. W. gym.

The first official line-up of the game is as follows. As forwards, last year's stellar shots Naomi Crumley and Althea Lawton will ring up the score for the colonials.

Jenny Turnbull, last year's efficient side-center will play the position of Pivot, and she will be ably assisted by Wilhemina Gude, side-center.

Evelyn Folsom, varsity guard of several years standing, will resume her position this year, and with her either Katherine McCallum or Dorothy Wilson will play.

The substitutes for the game will be Jean McGregor, Grace Haley, Catherine Palmer, and Neva Ewin. Gallaudet was not included on the schedule for last year's games, and this game should prove to be unusually interesting.

As an introductory feature to this game, class games will be played: Freshmen vs. Sophomores, and Sophomores vs. Seniors. These games will be played in the gym at 7 on February 15.

ANNUAL DINNER PLANNED

The annual dinner of the Education Association of the District of Columbia will be held at the Mayflower Hotel, on Saturday, February 15, 1930.

NEWLY ORGANIZED INTRAMURALS TO BE SUCCESSFUL

New Director of Physical Training For Women Sponsors Plan

STUDENT COMMITTEE TO ASSIST IN NEW PROGRAM

Representatives of Eighteen Groups on Campus Named to Stimulate Interest

"Play for Play's Sake" is the idea for which the newly organized intramurals at George Washington are working. Miss Atwell, the University's new director of Physical Training for women, is endeavoring to provide sport not for those of varsity aspirations or abilities, but primarily for girls who wish to participate in athletics for exercise and fun.

Assisting Miss Atwell, an Intramural Committee headed by Mary Hudson, is vigorously putting into practice the intra-mural slogan: "A Team for Every Girl. A Girl for Every Team." Members of the committee meet at 3 o'clock in the Gymnasium Office on Friday of each week. The committee reviews problems, plans what sports shall be contested in each month, and sets forth the exact rules that shall govern the games. In the future there will also be a report made each week on the way intra-mural sports are managed in other colleges. These reports will be made by girls on the committee.

Students who compose this group are: Mary Hudson, manager; Mary Detweiler and Marian Lum, assistant managers; and one member from each of the eighteen active groups of the campus. These representatives are by name:

Cary Aal, Elizabeth Cates, Eleanor Coon, Dorothy Ruth, Katherine McCallum (non-sorority); Althea Lawton (Delta Zeta); Peggy Mays (Chi Omega); Edith McCoy (Kappa Kappa Gamma); Lee McNeil (Sigma Kappa); Catherine Palmer (Phi Mu); Rosalie Reed (Phi Beta Phi); Ethel Theis (Phi Delta); Grace White (Zeta Tau Alpha); and Virginia Whitney (Kappa Delta).

Object Stated

The object of these representatives is to see that each girl takes back to her group the news of what is going on in meeting and to interest girls in the sports. At the end of the school year, the group which has won the most contests is to be rewarded by a cup given by Miss Atwell. The name of the victorious group will be then printed on a placard to be hung in the gymnasium.

Tournaments scheduled for winter

CHEERLEADERS

Candidates for the cheer leading team will report at the gymnasium before Friday, February 14, and leave class schedule, free hours and telephone number at the coach's office.

BASEBALL DISCARDED IN FAVOR OF LACROSSE

Several Strong Teams in Vicinity Expected to Give Keen Competition

With one of the most successful basketball seasons seen at G. W. U. for a good many years fast drawing to a close, the eyes of the coaching staff turn toward spring sports. Baseball, which held reign until last year, has been discarded for a number of reasons the most outstanding being a lack of student support and proper facilities for playing.

Casting about for another field to enter since baseball does not seem popular the staff is seriously considering Lacrosse as a substitute. This game which has been threatening baseball's supremacy for some time in the East, will be a new sport at G. W.

However, four of the best teams in the country are located nearby. Navy, Maryland, Johns Hopkins and St. John's of Annapolis, are about the best to be found on this side of the Atlantic.

Lacrosse in a few years may take the place of baseball in collegiate competition for it has many of the characteristics of football the supremacy of which cannot be doubted. Speed, frequent sprints, long and snap passes, block plays, etc. keep the action moving along at a fast clip and the interest well keyed up.

If George Washington should decide ter intra-murals are: February and March—basketball.

A basketball tournament will be the next event. Because of "Rushing" and lack of practice, the committee decided that March would be the best month for this.

Rules Listed

Rules as set forth by the committee are:

1. Each girl must have a minimum of four practices during February before the team will be allowed to enter the tournament.

2. No varsity letter girls will be allowed to play, and only two minor letter girls may enter.

3. Hours open for practice: every night from 7 to 8; Tuesday and Saturday from 12 to 1 p. m. and Thursday afternoon from 2 to 3.

4. Each girl playing must have a medical examination in the Gym Office.

Contests for later months will be arranged by the Intramural Committee.

CUBS SUFFER FIRST LOSS

Otto Zahn Is High Scorer For George Washington With Nine Points

The Cubs of George Washington suffered their first defeat last Thursday night when the Georgetown University Frosh were victorious by a score of 26 to 24. G. W. had won nine straight games. The game was played in the Tech High gym.

Murphy, playing the guard position for the Hilltoppers, was instrumental in the Colonials' defeat. In the last five minutes of play he scored two field goals and a foul shot to wipe out the small lead held by the Cubs and to insure victory for G. U.

G. W. amassed a substantial lead at the start of the game and at the end of the first quarter was in the van by seven points. It was the Cubs' first game after examinations, however, and the long lay-off from practice was largely responsible for their losing to in favor of this sport there would be five teams within a radius of 40 miles of the Capitol and with so many teams playing the game at the present time it would not be difficult to arrange for competition. Any men interested should report to the gymnasium within the next week or so.

DUNHAM WINS IN TENNIS

Josephine Dunham defeated Mary Detweiler in the finals of the girls' tennis matches on Thursday, December 26, at the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore.

The two contestants were evenly matched, which afforded much excitement throughout the games. The scores were 6-4, 1-6, 6-2.

Josephine Dunham has played in many tournaments in the District and in nearby Maryland and Virginia.

Rifle Team Shoots In N. R. A. Contests

Co-Eds Have Won Matches For Past Three Years; Ten Girls On Team

The girls' rifle squad is now in the first stages of the N. R. A. championship matches.

The team consists of ten girls with 60 shots apiece. Out of these the five high scores count. All the shooting is in the prone position.

The George Washington team has won the matches for the past three years. Out of a possible 3,000, in 1927 they made 2,991; in 1928, 2,972; and in 1929, 2,974. Although the Colonials lost several excellent shots through graduation last June, there is an equally good chance for us to keep up the former stride with the present squad.

Hilltop Frosh. Their passing and shooting was far below par. It was also the first game that George Washington team had played on other than the home floor.

Georgetown, by winning, avenged a defeat administered by the Cubs earlier in the season. Otto Zahn was high scorer for the G. W. quint with nine points. Murphy led the victors with seven.

BOWLING SEASON OF FRATERNITIES GETS UNDER WAY

The interfraternity bowling season got under way last Thursday when ten teams took the alleys at Convention Hall. As a result of these matches Theta Upsilon Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Nu lead League A, while Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Chi are resting on top of League B.

Most of the matches were close and interesting throughout, the results of some of these remaining in doubt until the final box. Each fraternity had its loyal band of rooters who stayed to the end and cheered for their favorites.

Scores of the matches were rather low, but this was to be expected, as it was the first time many of the bowlers had been on the alleys this year. The advantages gained seemed to indicate that a few of the teams had held practice.

Phi Sigs Win

Phi Sigma Kappa exhibited the most strength, for after getting off to a bad start in their match with Theta Delta Chi by losing the first game, they came back strong to win the last two games of the match handily while rolling up the two highest games of the entire evening's matches. These games were 519 and 523, which coupled with their opening game gave them a three game total of 1561, the largest of the evening. Jaquette was the individual star of the match with a set of 318, while Slye and Brown also rolled well with sets of 307 and 303, respectively.

The other match in League B was much closer than the score indicated, as the Sigma Chis were returned the victors over the Deltas by virtue of a high third game in which they toppled 518 pins to give them a two to one victory. Bowen, of the winners, turned in a game of 118 and a set of 337 to garner individual honors. His set was the highest rolled during the evening and materially aided his team to register a total pinfall of 1484. Dorset and Eberly were the best for the losers.

Neal Stars

The closest encounter in League A was contested between Sigma Nu and Kappa Sigma, with the former getting the odd game. Both teams were badly off form and as a result the scores were low. Kappa Sigma won the first game with a score of 468, but weakened badly and lost the remaining two games by good margins. Neal of Sigma Nu was the only man of the winners to gather in a 300 set, beating that mark by three pins. Polkinhorn's set of 313 and his steady rolling held the spotlight throughout the match.

Theta Upsilon Omega, last year's champions, showed nominal strength in winning all three games from Kappa Alpha by wide margins. Pomeroy clinched the first game for the T. U. O.'s by toppling 126 pins, the highest score of the game. In this game their team registered their highest count of the evening with a total of 516. Though their scores in the remaining games were lower, they were high enough to win and give them a clean sweep. Pomeroy's set was high for the match, while Futterer captured the honors for the losers.

S. A. E. Wins Three

In the other match of the evening, Sigma Alpha Epsilon encountered little difficulty in snatching three games from Sigma Phi Epsilon, to share the league leadership with the Sigma Nus and T. U. O.'s. Only one game was close, the Sig Alphas nosing out the Sig Eps by the narrow mar-

INTERFRAT BOWLING PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Athletic Committee Gives Rules to Govern Matches Which Started February 6

Rules and regulations for the interfraternity bowling matches which were begun Thursday, February 6, have been announced by A. M. Davis, chairman of the Athletic Committee. Complete regulations are as follows:

1. First matches will be rolled Thursday night, February 6, and following matches will be rolled on each succeeding Thursday night as per schedule in the Students Handbook.
2. Matches will not be postponed or played on any night other than the date originally scheduled.
3. Matches are scheduled for 10:00 p. m. and must be started by 10:15. If one team is ready to start at 10:15 and the other is not, the team not ready shall be penalized 15 pins, to be subtracted from the first game rolled.
4. All teams shall consist of five men.
5. Any man starting a game must bowl the entire game.
6. No shots shall be made with dead wood on the alley. Penalty for shots so made loss of all pins scored on that ball.
7. Foul line should be observed.
8. Each team shall keep its own score, one score keeper shall be selected by both teams to score on large sheets, and one man from each team shall collaborate on a small sheet. The small sheet score shall be turned over to the score keeper from the winning team, who shall deliver it to the Chairman of the Athletic Committee before midnight of the Friday following the game. If such scores are not received by this time, the winning team shall forfeit the match by a score of one pin less than the score of their opponents.
9. In computing winning league averages, should two or more teams tie on a percentage basis of matches won and lost, total pins scored will decide the winner.

gin of twelve pins in the second game. Adams of the victors stood out with a set of 304.

Ten teams will continue to bowl on the coming Thursday night, with two matches bearing importance on the league standing. In these matches Theta Upsilon Omega bowl Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa tackles Sigma Chi.

Five Thousand Dollar Fine and Jail Faces Membership of G. W. Radio Club

Army Report States Serious Interference in Frequency—Members of Class Deny Report With Technical Statistics—Relay Prison Sentence Is Discovered By Offending Members

A five thousand dollar fine and two years imprisonment may fall to the lot of members of The George Washington University Radio Club, whose Station W3ACY allegedly was operating off-band and causing interference with Army services.

An Army report sent to Mr. W. D. Terrell, Chief of the Radio Division of the U. S. Department of Commerce, caused him to dispatch a hasty letter to the Radio Club informing them that they were charged with "serious interference on the Army frequency of 6990 kilocycles at 9.55 a. m., on January 22." Mr. Terrell requested an affidavit from the local club concerning their operations on that date.

Off-band operation of amateur radio stations is a direct violation of international treaty, as well as of the 1927 radio law which provides for $5,000 fine and two years in jail as punishment of violators. Members of the local club are therefore anxiously awaiting the outcome of the complaint. Which one of them would be required to spend the two years in jail, while under ordinary circumstances this might prove of interesting discussion, nevertheless now has a far more somber significance. Even of more import perhaps is which would have to pay the $5,000. All this of course is based on the supposition that the club should be found guilty.

Members denied any violation of the radio act, stating in the affidavit to the Department of Commerce, "The station was within the band as prescribed by law for amateurs, located just above 7,000 kilocycles. Frequency is checked by a flashlight indicator wavemeter, checked opposite the station's receiver." The amateur band, in any part of which W3ACY is permitted to operate, runs from 7,300 to 7,000 kilocycles. Interference with a station sending on 6,990 kilocycles would of course indicate 10 kilocycle off-band operation of W3ACY. But the club does not believe it was off-band.

There are two types of interference, explained members. When a broadcast listener "listens in for distance," he is often chagrined because WRC or another local station spreads all "over the dial." That is interference due to broadness, or "breakover," and is the result simply of proximity of receiving station to the sending. The other type of interference is "beat-note" interference, and may be recognized by squeals in the receiver. This type is not due to proximity of sending station, but is due to off-wave operation. The first type of interference is not the fault of the transmitter, and when such interference is caused the operating time of the transmitter is usually divided with that of the distant transmitter, so both may have a chance.

The second type is the fault of the interfering station, and punishable at law. The Radio Club believes that if their station had been causing the interference alleged, it would have been of the first type. They have carefully checked their transmitting wave, and state it to be within the band allotted them. But an error of a tenth of one per cent might well throw them outside their band and make them interfere, so for this reason they have suspended all transmissions until the results of the complaint at the hands of the Army are known.

"I am quite afraid that they couldn't fine us $5,000, though," said the club's treasurer H. S. Cole, "because we haven't that much. Expenses of installing and running the transmitter, and preparations for handling student radiograms free, have demanded so much that most of our members have paid their dues up until the time of their graduation, and that's a long time." While inwardly shivering, members of the club have managed to keep up happy faces, as Cole's little joke indicates. If they should have to go to jail, they are contemplating doing it in shifts, in a sort of relay team arrangement. The Chief Operator of the club believes that a diet of bread and water would help him reduce, while the Secretary and Chairman have not committed themselves to any point of view. Professor H. C. McNeill, the Honorary President, has not been asked if he would stand a shift in jail should the club be forced into this last extremity.

DEBATE PRINCETON ON DISARMAMENT

ticular position for which he is best fitted, both by training and by temperament.

Men Are Experienced

The first two men on his team, Mr. Laughlin and Mr. Butte, one of whom will cross-examine the Princeton constructive speaker, and the other of whom will have to submit to a cross-examination by Princeton's lawyer, are both students in the Law School of George Washington. Mr. Laughlin is holder of the Larnier Gold Medal for scholastic excellence; he is a past president of Columbian Debating Society, and was on the varsity debate squad in 1927-28; he is a member of Acacia and Delta Theta Phi. Mr. Butte is a former student of the University of Texas, Porto Rico, and Yale Law School, having represented the last named school in its bilingual debates with the University of Porto Rico at San Juan last April; he is a member of Phi Alpha Delta and Phi Delta Gamma.

The third man on Professor Yeager's team, of debaters, on whom will rest the final speech in summary and rebuttal, is a sophomore student in Columbian College. Mr. Hagen comes to George Washington backed by three years of debating experience in Minnesota and Ohio, and has demonstrated himself to be a debater of no ordinary ability.

Yeager Confident

Professor Yeager, yesterday, expressed his confidence in the ability and enthusiasm of his men. "We have worked hard for this debate, and we are ready to meet Princeton," he said. "While we do not underestimate the strength of our opponents, and while we are using what is to us a new and unfamiliar type of debate, George Washington's team is determined to fight for every inch of ground. That debate Saturday is going to be a high-speed affair, from the first minute to the last."

The George Washington-Princeton debate is set for next Saturday, February 15, at 8 p. m. It is at present located in Stockton Hall, on the University Campus; but should the facilities of that room prove inadequate, it may be moved to Corcoran Hall 1.

ART PROMOTERS CLUB HOLD FIRST EXHIBITION

Paintings of Rowland Lyon Shown At Carlton Hotel Last Saturday

The Art Promoter's Club held its first large exhibit on Saturday, February 8, by displaying the works of its members from 4 to 7 p. m. in the patio of the Carlton Hotel. The exhibit—which was thrown open to the public—included paintings by Theodore J. Morgan, nationally known artist; Hildegard Hamilton, whose work has won favorable criticism both in this country and abroad, and Rowland Lyon, a student of Charles Hawthorne. Mr. Lyon is a graduate student of George Washington University and he is well remembered as a "Ghost" artist of fame. He is now one of the better known junior artists of Washington.

Another whose exhibit was considered of great interest was Harold Colborn, who showed a number of batiks fascinatingly designed by himself. This display included kerchiefs, scarfs, wall panels, and covers.

The Art Promoter's Club, numbering among its members many George Washington students, is composed mostly of young people. It is under the patronage of the Minister of Persia, Mirza Davoud Khan Meztah, honorary president; the Ambassador of Turkey, Ahmed Moustah Bey, and the Chinese Minister, Dr. Wu, honorary vice presidents. William Elderkin Huntington of the Arts School of George Washington University is Director of the Society.

Eline Von Borries To Address W. A. A. Meet

Bridge Party to Follow In Corcoran Hall 1, Immediately

Eline von Borries, director of physical education at Goucher, will be the featured speaker of a very important meeting of the W. A. A. which will be held on Wednesday, February 12, in Corcoran Hall 17.

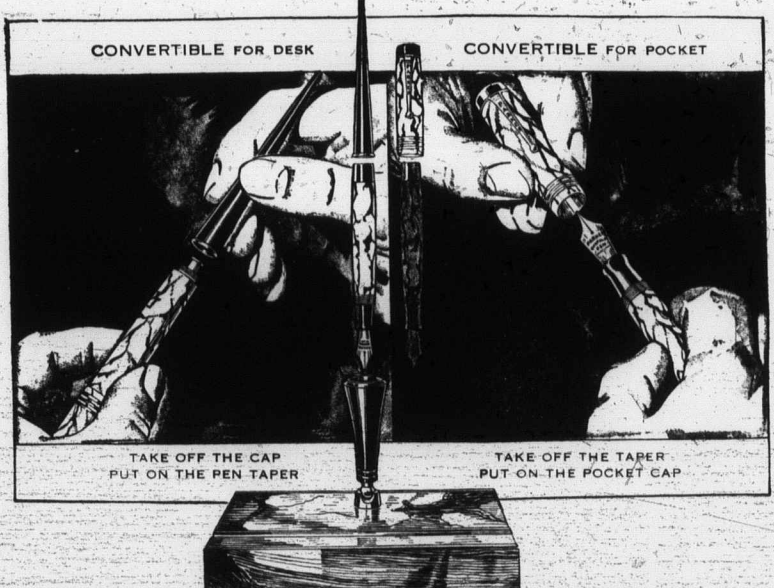

Miss von Borries' subject will be "Athletic Competition for Women," and should be most interesting to the association in view of the recent development of intramurals in George Washington.

Besides being physical director at Goucher, Eline von Borries is also secretary of the Eastern Society of College Physical Directors. This society includes all the colleges on the Eastern coast of the United States.

Immediately following the meeting the W. A. A. Bridge Party will be held in Corcoran Hall 1.

LIKE TWO PENS for the Price of One

—a Pocket Pen for Classroom Notes, and a Desk Pen for Your Room—Guaranteed for Life!

If you buy a Parker Pocket Duofold you now can have a Desk Set without buying a second pen. Or if you buy a Parker Duofold Desk Set you also now receive a Duofold Pocket Pen guaranteed for life. Either way, you save the price of a second pen—$5, $7 or $10, according to the model.

By adding a tapered end, you convert your Duofold Pocket Pen to a Desk Pen in 10 seconds. By removing the taper and putting on the Pocket Cap you restore it to a Pocket Duofold on leaving office or home.

Thus every owner of a Parker Pocket Pen owns half a Desk Set. Getting a Desk Base completes it. We now include pen taper free with that.

And to every buyer of a Parker Desk Set, we now give a Pocket Cap with Clip. Thus his Desk Pen is also a Pocket Pen—like 2 Pens for the price of one Set. Be sure to ask for the Pocket Cap with your Desk Set.

Parker's new streamlined Duofold Pens (and Pencils to match) set lower in the pocket than others because the clip starts at the top—not halfway down the cap. This smart, balanced shape feels "at home" in the hand—and writes with our famous 47th improvement—Pressureless Touch.

Go see this revolutionary Convertible Duofold at any near-by pen counter.

NATIONAL CONTEST ON CONSTITUTION TO BE RENEWED

National Finals Will Be Held In Los Angeles on June 19

TIME LIMIT IS CHANGED; NEW SUBJECTS OFFERED

Details of Local Contest Will Be Announced Soon; Interest Is Growing

The sixth National Oratorical Contest is about to be conducted throughout the country and entries may be filed any time before the twenty-fifth of March. The National Finals will take place on June 19.

Interest has grown yearly with the large cash awards drawing numerous students into the contest. It is expected that every college in the country will have representatives this year. Last year 542 colleges were represented.

George Washington University holds an oratorical contest annually and enters a representative in the district finals. Harryman Dorsey has been the winner of this contest for the past three years. It is expected that a large number of students of the University will enter this year's contest.

Prizes Changed
The ten minute limit has been abandoned and a word limit of 1500 words, has been set. The total amount of the prizes remains $5,000, the lowest prize being raised, however, to $400, but the first prize remains at $1,500.

A new list of subjects, more in keeping with the maturity of college men and women, has been announced. The 1930 subjects are: The Constitution of the United States.

Constitutional Ideals.
Constitutional Duties.
Constitutional Aspirations.
The Constitution and the Supreme Court.

The Place of Constitutional Law in American Life.

The Constitution and National Progress.

The Constitution and Contemporary Executive Practices.

The Constitution and American Economic Policies.

Constitutional Incentives to Individual Initiative.

Constitutional Guarantees to All American Citizens.

The Constitution and International Affairs.

American Youth and the Constitution.

The Constitution and its Founders.

Finals On June 19

This contest was inaugurated and is conducted by the Better American Federation of California. Last year 542 colleges and universities entered the contest. Every college student in America is eligible to compete.

The finals will be held June 19, at Los Angeles. The entries close March 25, and each college or university should have selected its orator by April 15. Information concerning the details of the contest may be obtained from P. Caspar Harvey, Contest Director, Liberty, Missouri.

The rules of the local contest are not known as yet, but will be published shortly. Every student of the university is eligible to enter the contest, and with interest manifesting itself throughout the college, a large number of entrants are expected.

ECONOMICS DEPT. WILL GIVE 2 NEW COURSES

Dr. Smith and Mr. Simmons Instructing in Economic History and Foreign Trade

A course in the Economic History of the United States, dealing with the economic development of the nation and its latter-day commercial and industrial problems is being given in the second semester by Dr. Mark Smith. Dr. Smith, who taught the History of Commerce in the University last semester, holds the degree of Ph. D. from Harvard University, the degree of A. M. from the University of Wisconsin, and the degree of A. B. from Dartmouth College. He has taught at Simmons College, Northeastern College, where he was acting Dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, and the University of Kansas. He is at present an economist with the United States Tariff Commission, and has previously served as a special expert for the Commission and as a member of the Research Staff of the Institute of Economics. Dr. Smith is the author of a book on The Tariff on Wool, and of various government bulletins and articles in scientific journals.

Foreign Trade, a study of the principles and procedure of exporting and importing, is being given by Francis E. Simmons, A. M., who last semester offered the course in Marketing. Mr. Simmons is a graduate of Dickinson College and holds the degree of Master of Arts from American University. He is a member of the staff of the Domestic Commerce Division of the Department of Commerce, in which capacity he has collaborated on the distribution cost analyses, the national retail credit survey and the national regional commercial surveys which are being carried on by the Department, and in the publication of "Market Research Agencies," and "Commercial and Industrial Organizations."

Ohio Wesleyan Debaters Here Tonight

OHIO WESLEYAN TO DEBATE HERE

G. W. Team to Meet Strong Squad in Stockton Hall Tonight

OHIOANS HAVE EXCELLENT RECORD AS DEBATE TEAM

Professor W. Hayes Yeager To Preside Over First Verbal Joust

The George Washington University will open what promises to be an unusually interesting and successful debating season in men's debating tonight in Stockton Hall on the University campus, when they meet a crack team from Ohio Wesleyan University on the question, "Resolved, that the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament except such forces as are necessary for police purposes."

George Washington's team for the debate is composed of Norman R. Hagen, Charles V. Laughlin, and Woodfin L. Butte. Upholding the negative of the question, and speaking in the order named, these men will point out the impracticability of complete disarmament in a world organized as ours is today and will characterize the hopes of the affirmative as impractical dreams.

Experienced Team
The team representing Ohio Wesleyan is in every respect an experienced and qualified group of debaters: Phillips Moulton; Donald Sherbondy, and Joseph Rinnert, all of advanced standing in that school, all with at least three years' intercollegiate debating experience behind them, and all of high scholastic rank. These men will argue that the only way to complete peace is through complete disarmament, and set out evidence to show that the world is now ready to take such a step.

The debate will be presided over by Professor Willard Hayes Yeager, Dewey professor of public speaking at George Washington, and coach of the George Washington debating team.

RUEDIGER GIVES ADDRESS

"The Work and Function of the Parent-Teacher Association" was the title of a talk by Dean Wm. Ruediger given before the P. T. A. at Columbia Junior High School, last night. This was the annual meeting in commemoration of the founding of the parent-teacher movement in the United States. Dean Ruediger's talk was one of a series.

SUMMER SCHOOL COURSES STATED

George Washington Faculty To Be Supplemented by Several Visiting Professors

DR. BOLWELL IS DIRECTOR

Visiting Members Will Give Courses in Education, English, History, and Law

Seven visiting professors from other universities will be included in George Washington University's summer faculty this year, according to Prof. Robert Whitney Bolwell, director of the sessions.

The summer sessions in Columbian College, the Graduate School of Letters and Sciences, the School of Engineering, the School of Government, the division of library science and the division of fine arts will consist of a nine-week term, starting June 16 and ending August 16, and also a six-week term running from June 30 to August 9. The Law School summer session consists of two terms, the first extending from June 16 to July 30, and the second from July 31 to September 13.

In addition to the regular members of The George Washington University faculty who will teach in the Summer School, the following visiting professors will give courses here:

Tanies Henry Schutte, of the Woman's College of Alabama, visiting professor of education; E. Ehrlich Smith of Randolph-Macon College, visiting professor of education; A. Curtis Wilgus of the University of South Carolina, visiting professor of history; Carl Crumble Wheaton of the St. Louis University Law School, visiting professor of law; Robert R. Potter of the University of North Carolina, visiting associate professor of English; Wesley T. Craven of New York University, visiting instructor in history; Paul Swain Havens of Princeton University, visiting instructor in English.

Education Courses Planned

Professor Schutte will offer a course for high school administrators and teachers, which will consider recent growth in secondary education, aims and functions, reorganization, program of study, classification and guidance, extracurricular activities, plant, costs and standardization. He will also give a course in tests and measurements, a study of the status and significance of measurement in education and the utilization of data obtained in guiding instruction and study.

Professor Smith will give a course in the technique of teaching which will consider the directing of the learning process with special reference to the nature and meaning of the subject matter taught; and a course in elementary education, a survey of tendencies in elementary education with special reference to underlying principles, elementary school supervision, the functions and opportunities of the principal and special supervisors.

Other Subjects Listed

A survey course and a pre-seminar in Latin American history will be given by Professor Wilgus. Professor Wheaton will offer the course in agency in the Law School.

Renaissance and Elizabethan literature, Elizabethan drama and nineteenth century drama will be taught by Professor Potter.

Professor Craven will give courses in English history since 1803 and the American Colonies and the British Imperial problem. Mr. Havens will offer courses in seventeenth century literature, the romantic movement and Victorian poetry.

Y. W. C. A. TEA FRIDAY

All women new to the University this term are invited to a tea given by the Y. W. C. A. in the Women's Building, Friday, February 14, from four to six. Y. W. C. A. members are also invited.

G. W. and Ohio Wesleyan Women Debate College Education To No Decision

A no-decision debate between the George Washington University Women's debate team and Ohio Wesleyan was held Friday evening, February 7, in Stockton Hall. The subject was whether or not the present tendency to provide higher education for the masses should be discouraged.

The George Washington team consisted of Genevieve Winsatt, Elizabeth Reeves, and Myrtle Wilson. Debaters from the visiting college were Margaret Reinhart, Roseland None, and Helen Mallory. Mrs. Winnie G. Barrows, secretary of women's activities, acted as chairman.

In the debate, Friday evening the G. W. team stressed the fact that the tendency to educate the masses results in a lowering of college standards and a general limitation of services which institutions of higher learning will be able to offer.

The Ohio Wesleyan girls argued that everyone should be given an opportunity to improve his mind and better his status in society. They maintained that our colleges and universities should be open to those who desire to partake of their benefits.

LE MERLE FEATURED IN COLLEGE HALL OF FAME

Eugenie Le Merle, student at George Washington University, has been awarded the honor of being chosen for the Collegiate Hall of Fame in the current issue of College Humor Magazine.

Alpha Delta Pi proudly claims Miss Le Merle as a member, and she was one of the winners of the beauty contest held on the campus recently.

On the same page with Miss Le Merle in the Collegiate Hall of Fame are featured Willis Glassgow of the University of Iowa, Alfreda Sylvia Hagen of the University of Minnesota, Charles F. O'Neill, Jr., of Rutgers University, Ruth Bonnin of the University of Kentucky, Harry Pritchett of the University of Alabama, Phyllis Clay of the University of Missouri, and Richard C. Hutchinson of West Point.

COLONIAL BELLE CONTEST LOOMS

Mystery Enshrouds Race as Beall, Jackson, Mays and Wright Are Nominated

PICTURES DUE FOR MANY

Photographs May Be Taken On Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday Nights

Mystery enshrouds the identity of George Washington's Miss Colonial Belle, as the Cherry Tree popularity contest continues. There are now three girls in the running, with the prospect of several more nominations by other groups: Carolyn Jackson, Peggy Mays, Roberta Wright, and Winnie Beall are the known entrants. Any group of students may nominate a girl, popular on the campus, and by securing ten subscribers to the 1930 Cherry Tree she will be entered in the contest. All votes turned in above the initial ten will be kept a secret by Joe Howard, Circulation Manager of the year book, until the book comes from the press early in May.

Seniors in all departments of the University, especially in Columbian, Teachers, and Law Schools, should have their pictures taken immediately for the senior section of the Cherry Tree. Approximately two hundred seniors have had sittings but there are a greater number in the graduating classes who have not been to the studio, 712 Twentieth Street, for their pictures. Pictures will be taken up to February 25, inclusive; the hours are from 8 until 10 every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday night. The studio is on the third floor of the Twentieth Street building, and is convenient to students.

Copy date has been set as February 15th. This means that the copy from organizations, fraternities, sororities and other groups should be in the hands of the editors the last of this week. Copy may be mailed or left in the Cherry Tree Office, Building A, fourth floor.

The various features of the book are being assembled, and the Feature Section promises to be the most unusual in the history of the book. There will be pictures of Miss Colonial Belle, to whom the Feature Section of the book will be dedicated, of the runners-up in the contest, and information about the girls. There will be interesting notes on some members of the faculty which should be interesting to every student in the University. Snapshots will be reproduced, which will depict the various phases of life at G. W. Students are urged to send snaps into the Features Editor, Edith Norris, who will return them to the owners after they have been used.

The photographer has taken pictures of the University Buildings, and of the Campus, which will be used as part of the main division pages. Besides these pictures there will be sketches of some of the buildings, drawn by the students in the Art School.

Subscriptions to the 1930 Cherry Tree may be made through Joe Howard, at the Kappa Alpha House, or at the Bursar's Office. A dollar deposit may be made, or the cost of the book, four dollars, paid in full. At the time of subscribing, the ballot for Miss Colonial Belle should be cast.

BETA SECOND CHAPTER TO BE FOUNDED IN D. C.

Several Prominent Members of the Faculty Have Already Been Initiated

The organizers of the new George Washington Chapter of the National social science honor society, Pi Gamma Mu, will assemble this week under the direction of Dr. John Donaldson for the purpose of completing arrangements for this semester's activities on the campus. A large number of students as well as affiliated members of the faculty are members of other chapters.

The representation at our University will be known as the Beta Chapter of the District of Columbia, Alpha Chapter having already been established at Catholic University. An extensive list of eligible candidates has been prepared and students majoring in history, sociology, economics, political science, and psychology whose scholarship records are acceptable will receive bids in the near future.

Ragatz Elected

Dr. L. J. Ragatz has recently been elected to membership in Pi Gamma Mu, together with several others representing the faculty of the social sciences. Dr. Ragatz' achievements as an author and lecturer have received national recognition and his acceptance of membership is regarded as a distinct advantage to the fraternity. Other prominent members of Pi Gamma Mu are Commander Richard E. Byrd, Jane Adams of Hull House, Chicago, John Hays Hammond and Strickland Gilliland of Washington, Dr. Irving Fisher, Dr. Elwood P. Cubberley, and many other prominent figures in the intellectual circles of modern America.

Pi Gamma Mu held its annual national convention in Washington at the Mayflower Hotel during the past Christmas season. The meeting was primarily for the purpose of extending its organization which, even at the present time numbers about 107 chapters in the leading colleges and universities of the country. At the Washington meeting, a member of the fraternity, Señor Alfaro, Minister from Panama, addressed representatives at a banquet held at the Mayflower.

High Standing Sought

Pi Gamma Mu aims in time to occupy a position in the field of social science comparable to that of Phi Beta Kappa in the field of literary studies and of Sigma Xi in natural sciences, election to membership being strictly on the basis of high scholarship and research.

The program of Pi Gamma Mu is two-fold: First it aims to inculcate the scientific attitude toward social questions, in the minds of undergraduate student members. Second it aims to keep alive this scientific interest in social studies and to intensify it in the minds of all members who have graduated.

Pi Gamma Mu publishes a quarterly journal called "Social Science" which is read and enjoyed by thousands many of whom are not members of Pi Gamma Mu. Its chief purpose is to popularize scientific social conceptions.

LIBERAL CLUB MEETING SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

Fritz Leibler once more makes a journey on the dormant road. Again Shakespeare is his medium.

That the company is a "divic" one may account for a mediocre supporting cast. Perhaps this actor, like others, is wise in surrounding himself with a lukewarm cast, for it shows off his efforts to the best possible advantage.

A certain amount of approbation is due to Leibler, in that he displays his versatility in each play that he has chosen. His depiction of Hamlet, while not entirely pleasant, shows the neurotic prince as Shakespeare perhaps meant him to be. He quickly changes his garments and attitude into that of Shylock, making it a character, while not exactly original, full of craftiness, avarice, and race pride. His metamorphoses into Iago, Malvolio, and Orlando, are equally artistic.

If Leibler were supported with actors of his ability, it would be a week of enlightenment and pleasure for Shakespeare lovers.

NATIONAL

Next week brings Mitzl into our midst with "Sari." Mitzl is the musical comedy actress who starred when our mothers were in the cradle. The comedy is one which, however, fortunately suits her talents.

"Sari" opened in New York, having a regrettably short run prior to its production here.

Mitzl has become a tradition to theater goers, for she embarked upon her career ever so long ago, but this season seems to be one of revivals. We only hope that the ghosts of her former triumphs do not return to listen for the flaw and catch in a voice that has delighted millions for years.

Her latest vehicle has every modern touch possible. Perhaps it is necessary. Musically, it is pleasure to the ear, and the lively tunes are backed by the Albertina Rasch ballet.

It is a venture, quite worth seeing, even out of curiosity.

PALACE

"Seven Days Leave" is a movie that is a serious effort, as well as a successful one, towards artistic entertainment. "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals" by J. M. Barrie is the play from which this show is adapted.

Gary Cooper plays the role of a Canadian boy who is adopted as a result of coincidence by an old lady. His attitude is at first hostile, but she wins his admiration and affection by her loving sympathy. Cooper plays his part admirably with a restraint which the character requires.

The old lady is portrayed by Beryl Mercer. Here we find one of those rare bits of character acting which one so seldom sees in the modern, fast-moving photoplay. She shows a sensitiveness and sympathy which marks her as an actress of superior quality.

There is only one hitch. The play seems to drag. Perhaps this is due to the effort to make a full length performance out of a half hour play. All considered, this is an excellent performance.

NEWMAN CLUB HEARS ADDRESSES ON POETRY

Dean H. G. Doyle Discusses Spanish
Works; Bentley Gives Paper;
Senator Walsh to Speak

The meeting of the Newman Club, held in Corcoran Hall on Thursday evening, February 6, was featured by addresses on the religious poetry of two nations, England and Spain.

Henry Gratton Doyle, Professor of Romance Languages, spoke on the Spanish mystic poets of the middle ages and early modern times. He showed their influence on the Spanish people and literature of their times and of later periods.

Mr. Thomas B. Bentley presented a paper on Robert Southwell, the Catholic poet and martyr of the Elizabethan period in England. Mr. Bentley traced the tempestuous life of Southwell, his acts of devotion to his faith, and his influence upon later religious poets. A background of the religious and political situation in Elizabethan England was given by Dr. John K. Cartwright.

Senator David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts, will address the next meeting, which will be held on Thursday, February 20. Senator Walsh will be introduced by Provost William Allen Wilbur.

The Newman Club will be represented at the convention of the Middle Atlantic Province of the National Federation of Catholic Clubs, which takes place in Philadelphia, February 21 to 23, inclusive. Mr. Richard H. Meredith is the official delegate from the club here. The Bellevue-Stratford Hotel will house the delegates, while sessions will be held at the University of Pennsylvania.

A tea dance will be given by the club on February 22, George Washington's Birthday, at the Dodge Hotel Tea Hut, from four to seven. Bran Hughes' Orchestra will play. The following committee has been appointed to take charge: Camilla Cleary, chairman; Walter Delaney, Agnes O'Brien, Don Galligan, Mary Dormer, Pat Boivin, and Timoteo Suescum.

Rudy Vallee Will Play Frat Songs On Air

Popular Radio Star Is Member of
S. A. E.; Is Inducing Dance
Music of Country

Fraternity and college songs will be featured by "Rudy" Vallee and his orchestra tomorrow evening, February 13, over Station WRC between eight and nine o'clock.

"Rudy" Vallee who is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon from the University of Maine, will be the first popular radio star to take this means of expressing his high regard for the college Greek letter organizations so peculiar to American institutions. His broadcasting of this type of music will be especially acceptable in view of the fact that fraternity songs seldom reach the public, being restricted to the confines of the fraternity houses on the campuses throughout the country.

Never before has any radio singer met with the popular acclaim of the American radio audience as has "Rudy" Vallee. Due to his extreme individualistic departure from the dance music tempo and arrangement of compositions which has always been typical of America for the past few years, "Rudy" Vallee is being credited with being a new creative force who is influencing the dance music all over the country.

Students in the University interested in hearing this program are urged to "tune in" over WRC tomorrow evening for the Fleischman Yeast Hour.

CLUB FORMED BY 1930 COMMERCE STUDENTS

Students in Economics Department
Will Keep in Touch Through
Club After Graduation

The George Washington Commerce Club of 1929-30, an organization for students interested in foreign or domestic commerce, has been formed by students of Mr. F. E. Simmons' class in Marketing.

The purpose of the club is to keep members in touch with one another and with the University after leaving George Washington. The organization will seek to serve the interests of its members and to encourage continuation of the contacts established here, by disseminating information periodically concerning each member. This information is expected to be valuable not only to the members of the club, but also to the University and the Alumni Association, which will have a new source of information as to George Washington graduates.

As simplicity of organization was striven for, it was decided to limit its activities mainly to an annual "round up" of members, to be conducted by the secretary. Each year, information will be obtained as to their whereabouts, accomplishments and occupations. An up-to-date mailing list will be maintained by the secretary, and may be used by members desiring to get in touch with one another.

While the Marketing and Foreign Trade classes will provide the nucleus of the organization, all students of economics are eligible for membership, upon payment of nominal dues. Membership in the present club, for the sake of coherence, will be limited to students taking courses in economics during the present school year, but future clubs may be formed along the same lines.

The present officers of the club are: William B. Lieklider, Jr., President; Frank H. Whitehouse, Vice President; Alire J. McKay, Secretary-Treasurer; Ruth K. Ronning, Historian.

Snow Will Address Delta Phi Epsilon

Foreign Service Fraternity Members to Hear Expert on International Trade Next Monday

Chauncey D. Snow, assistant to the President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will address the members of Delta Phi Epsilon foreign service fraternity at a meeting to be held Monday, February 17, at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon House, 1128 Sixteenth Street.

Mr. Snow's experience has given him expert knowledge of his subject, "The International Chamber of Commerce." He has served as director of the foreign work of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, commercial representative of the United States in Europe, and Assistant Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the Department of Commerce.

Members of the George Washington Chapter of Delta Phi Epsilon joined with those of the Georgetown Chapter in celebrating the tenth birthday of the fraternity, on January 25, at a smoker held in the Georgetown Chapter House.

RENAISSANCE AUTHORITY TO TALK TO HISTORY CLUB

Dr. H. M. Dudley, professor of History at the American University, will address the History Club on Tuesday, February 18, at 8:15 p. m. The subject of his talk will be "The Spirit of the Renaissance Reflected in the Twentieth Century."

The speaker is quite an authority on this period of history and his address should be of great interest to all history students.

The meeting will be held in Corcoran Hall, room 24, and all students who are interested are invited.

TWO MEDALS TO BE GIVEN IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Colonial Dames' Prize Determined
On Basis of Class Work and Special Essay

Professor Emeritus Charles Clinton Swisher has announced the following prizes in history, to be awarded at the next Commencement of the University, in June. Candidates for the prizes are invited to begin efforts immediately. Enumeration of the prizes and conditions follow:

Colonial Dames Prize. The Society of the Colonial Dames of America, Chapter III, offers annually a gold medal for excellence in American Colonial History. This prize will be awarded for general excellence in this subject as shown by class standing, by special essays, and by such other tests as shall be prescribed.

Candidates for the Colonial Dames Medal should register title of any proposed prize essay with Professor Bemis.

Daughters of the American Revolution Prize. This prize, founded by the Daughters of the American Revolution of the District of Columbia, consists of a gold medal, awarded annually to the student in the graduating class, who, having maintained a high standing in the several courses in History offered by the University, shall produce the best essay upon an assigned topic of American history.

The subject for essay competition this year for the D. A. R. Prize will be: Analysis of the Economic Interpretation of the Constitution. Candidates should register with Professor Bemis.

The Episcopal Club of The George Washington University gives an annual prize of $10.00 for an essay on a subject to be announced each year. This prize is open to freshmen or sophomores, who are taking a course in mediaeval history.

The assigned subject for the Episcopal Club of The George Washington University is St. Bernard of Clairvaux and the Jews. Candidates should register with Professor Ragatz.

The Gardiner G. Hubbard Memorial Prize. This is a prize in American History established by Mrs. Gertrude M. Hubbard in memory of her husband, the late Gardiner G. Hubbard. The endowment is a fund of $1,000, the income from which is to be given annually to that member of the graduating class who has during four years maintained a high standing in the several classes in History, and who has produced the best essay upon a subject based upon a study of some assigned period of American History.

For the Hubbard Memorial prize the field of competition this year will be The Foundations of American Nationality. Candidates are at liberty to select their subject for prize essay, providing it falls in this field of American History, which for the purpose of the competition is interpreted between the dates 1789-1815. Candidates should register with Professor Bemis.

The Thomas F. Walsh Prize. This prize established by Thomas F. Walsh, Esq., of Colorado, and based upon the income of $1,000, consists of a gold medal awarded annually to that student of the graduating class who, having maintained a high standard in the several courses in History, shall produce the best essay upon a designated period of the History of England in its association with the History of Ireland.

The designated period in the History of England in its relations with Ireland will be this year the period of the Irish Free State. Candidates should register with Professor Churchill.

The various essays will be submitted by professors with whom they are entered, to Professor Swisher, who will appoint judges and with their assistance render decisions before commencement. All candidates for prizes or medals must register on or before April 11, but the sooner registered the better.

COMBINED GLEE CLUBS OF G. W. GIVE CONCERTS

The Women's Glee Club has been meeting regularly during the vacation on Wednesday, from 3:30 until 5, and on Saturday from 12:10 until 1:30, in Corcoran 1. All members are urged to be present at the next meetings.

These rehearsals have been held in preparation for the many concerts which will be given in the near future. Last Friday the club and the Men's Glee Club sang at the Cleveland Park Congregational Church. Tomorrow night the combined Men's and Women's Club will give a concert at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. The club will also sing at several other events in the near future.

Watering 87,000 Horses

On Horseshoe Lake near Oklahoma City, in a businesslike, compact building, 87,000 horses (figuratively speaking) are stabled—nearly three for every family in Oklahoma City. For with the completion of a new unit of the Oklahoma Gas & Electric Company's power station at this point, the total generating capacity was raised from 46,930 to 87,130 horsepower.

To keep these "horses" up to full working condition, and do it cheaply as possible, is no small job. Just the water required is 86,400,000 gallons daily, the equivalent of eight days' supply for Oklahoma City.

The new generating unit was made necessary by the expansion of industrial activity throughout Oklahoma and particularly by the increased use of electric power by the oil industry. For it, improved valves, fittings, and piping, so vital to efficient and economical power production, were supplied by Crane Co. Thus in these modern times does progress in one industry bring progress in another.

No matter what branch of engineering you enter after graduation, you are likely to find Crane piping materials essential tools of your profession. In the Crane book, "Pioneering in Science," is told the story of Crane research in metallurgy, with important scientific data and high pressure and temperature curves. A copy will be valuable for reference. Let us send you one.
